Joyce Weaver

Florist & Game Developer

Joyce Weaver knew she wanted to have a career in dance, working with babies, or art and surprisingly she found them all. Come hear the story of her journey and how she embarked on a career in Game Development while continuing to pursue her other interests. Ms. Weaver is a student at the Academy of Art University where she is obtaining her Master of Arts degree in Game Development. She aims to inspire little girls and women, especially ones who look like her, to enter the gaming industry.
